

#DisarmPSU Solidarity Teach-in
Tuesday, October 23, 2018
Native American Student and Community Center
9am-4pm

TENTATIVE PROGRAM

9-9:50am

Welcome and Land Acknowledgement

Social Emergency Response Center Model

Putting #DisarmPSU in Context

PSUSU Organizers

10-11:50am

“Sixty-four Dead, Seventy-one Wounded: Twenty-five Years of Police Shootings in Portland, OR, 1992-2017”

Dr. Leanne Serbulo, Assistant Professor
University Studies

“How Racial Stereotypes Impact Police Use of Force”

Dr. Kimberly Barsamian Kahn, Associate Professor Department of Psychology

11am- Breakout Sessions

- Black Person’s Caucus, Shanice Clarke
- Countering White Supremacy Caucus, Kristin Teigen

12-1:50pm

“Policing as Environmental Racism”

Shanice Clarke, Pan-African Commons
Red Hamilton, Pan-African Commons

1pm- Bus Riders Unite/Disarm and Demilitarize Trimet

Orlando Lopez, Organizing People/Activating Leaders

“Sexual/Gender Violence and Policing in the Context of Feminist Anti-Violence Movements” (30 minutes)

Dr. Miriam Abelson
Assistant Professor, Women, Gender, and Sexuality Studies

2-3:50pm

Movement Music: Singing the Message

Matthew David Morris, Beloved Community on Campus

- A talk on the history of music in justice movements, followed by praxis of the writing of a song together with all those present.

Student Protest Movement Case Studies

Dr. Michael Mooradian Lupro

Associate Professor, University Studies

Dr. Winston Grady-Willis

Director, School of Gender, Race and Nations

Documentary Clip: Arresting Power: Resisting Police Violence in Portland

Julie Perini (Director), Associate Professor

Art Practices, Video, and Time-Based Media

Ella's Song

Lisa Grady-Willis

Director of Diversity Education and Learning